same question: error relative to no change
One equals no change; lower is better. Color saturates at 2; labels retain full values.